INT. KOROVA MILKBAR - NIGHT.

Tables chairs, made of nude fibreglass figures.

Hypnotic atmosphere.

Alex
Pete
Georgie and Dim teenagers stoned on their milk-plus their feet resting on faces crotches lips of the sculptured furniture.

Alex: (Voice Over) There was me, that is Alex, and my three droogs, that is Pete, Georgie and Dim and we sat in the Korova milkbar trying to make up our rassooodles what to do with the evening.
Alex: (Voice Over) The Korova milkbar sold milkplus, milk plus vellocet or synthemesc or drencrom, which is what we were drinking. This would sharpen you up and make you ready for a bit of the old ultra-violence. Our pockets were full of money so there was no need on that score but, as they say, money isn't everything.

INT. PEDESTRIAN UNDERPASS TUNNEL - NIGHT

A tramp lying in tunnel singing.

Tramp: In Dublin's fair city, where the girls are so pretty
I first set my eyes on sweet Molly Malone.
As she wheeled her wheelbarrow
Through streets wide and narrow...

Shadows of the boys approaching fall across Tramp.

Tramp: Crying cockles and mussels alive
alive 0 ...
Alive, alive 0 ... Alive, alive 0 ...
Crying cockles and mussels alive,
alive 0 ...
Alex: (Voice Over) One thing I could never stand was to see a filthy, dirty old drunkie, howling away at the filthy songs of his fathers and going bleep, bleep in between, as it might be a filthy old orchestra in his stinking rotten guts. I could never stand to see anyone like that, whatever his age might be, but more especially when he was real old like this one was.

The boys stop and applaud him.

Tramp: Can you ... can you spare some cuttter, me brothers.

Alex rams his stick into the Tramp’s stomach. The boys laugh.

Tramp: Oh—huh!! Go on, do me in you bastard cowards. I don’t want to live anyway, not in a stinking world like this.

Alex: Oh — and what’s so stinking about it?

Tramp: It’s a stinking world because there’s no law and order any more. It’s a stinking world because it lets the young get onto the old like you done. It’s no world for an old man any more. What sort of a world is it at all? Men on the moon and men spinning around the earth and there’s not no attention paid to earthly law and order no more.
The Tramp starts singing again.

Tramp: Oh dear land, I fought for thee and brought thee peace and victory.

Alex and gang move in and start beating up on old tramp.

INT. DERELICT CASINO - NIGHT

Billyboy gang on stage tearing clothes off a screaming girl

Alex: (Voice Over) It was around by the derelict casino that we came across Billyboy and his four droogs. They were getting ready to perform a little of the old in-out, in-out on a weepy young devotchka they had there.

Alex and Gang step out of the shadows.

Alex: Ho, Ho, Ho... Well, if it isn't stinking Billygoat Billyboy in poison. How are thou, thou globby bottle of cheap stinking chip oil? Come and get one in the yarbles, if you have any yarbles, you eunuch jelly thou.
Billyboy snaps open a switchblade knife.

Billyboy: Let's get 'em, boys.

The fight begins, chains, knives, kicking boots. Police siren.

Alex: The Police ... come on, let's go ... come on.

Alex and boys rush out of Casino.

7 EXT/INT CAR - NIGHT - Fast driving shots.

Swerving car, forcing other cars off the road, trying to hit pedestrians, etc.

Alex: (Voice Over) The Durango-95 purred away real horrorshow - a nice, warm vibrate feeling all through your guttwuts. Soon it was trees and dark, my Brothers, with real country dark. We filled around for a while with other travellers of the night, playing hogs of the road. Then we headed west, what we were after now was the old surprise visit, that was a real kick and good for laughs and lashings of the old ultra-violent.
8.1 INT. "HOME" - NIGHT

Mr. Alexander typing.
Bell rings.

Mr. Alexander: Who on earth could that be?

Mrs. Alexander: I'll see.

Mrs. Alexander: a good-looking red head in a red jumper suit.

Mrs. Alexander: Yes? Who is it?

Alex: Excuse me, Mrs ... will you please help, there's been a terrible accident.

She opens the door on the chain and peeps out.
Alex: My friend's lying in the middle of the road bleeding to death. Could I please use your telephone for an ambulance?

Mrs. Alexander: I'm sorry. We don't have a telephone. You'll have to go somewhere else.

Alex: But, Mrs... it's a matter of life and death.

From inside the sound of clack clack clacky clack clack clackity clackclack of Alexander typing stops.

Mr. Alexander: Who is it, dear?

Mrs. Alexander: There's a young man here. He says there's been an accident. He wants to use the telephone.

Mr. Alexander: Then you'd better let him in.

Mrs. Alexander: Wait a minute.

Alex: Thank you, Mrs.

Mrs. Alexander opens door, saying...

Mrs. Alexander: I'm sorry, we don't usually let people in in the middle of the night.
Alex and boys have put on their masks and rush into house, carrying and dragging Mrs. Alexander
along with them.

INT. "HOME" - NIGHT

They go roaring in.

Mr. Alexander is kicked in the face and goes down. Georgie leaps on him.
Pete jumps up and down on the settee.
Dim grabs hold of
Mrs. Alexander.
Alex whistles piercingly.

Alex: Right, Pete. Check the rest of the house.

Alex turns to Dim who holds the struggling
Mrs. Alexander.

Alex: Dim ...

Dim sets her down but holds her firmly.
Alex starts to sing - "Singin' in the Rain", accompanying it with a kind of tap dance.
Alex: (singing) I'm singin' in the rain...

He kicks Mr. Alexander accenting the lyrics.

Alex: (singing) Just singin' in the rain...

He clubs Mrs. Alexander with stick, in time to the music.

Alex: (singing) What a glorious feeling, I'm happy again.

He pushes a rubber ball into Mrs. Alexander's mouth and binds it with sellotape.

Alex: (singing) I'm laughing at clouds so dark up above. The suns in my heart and I'm ready for love. Let the stormy clouds chase...

He kicks Mr. Alexander again.

Alex: (singing) Everyone from the place Come on with the rain.

He puts ball in Mr. Alexander's mouth and sellotapes it.

Alex: (singing) I've a smile on my face. I'll walk down the lane... to a happy refrain. I'm singing... just singin' in the rain.
He knocks down the book cases and moves to Mrs. Alexander being held by Dim. Starts to repeat on song as he cuts slowly up each leg of her cat suit, until she is naked. This coincides with the song finishing.

He turns to Mr. Alexander.

Alex: Viddy well, my little Brother. Viddy well.

OMITTED

INT. KOROVA MILKBAR - NIGHT

The boys enter yawning.

Alex: (Voice Over) We were all feeling a bit shagged and fagged and fashed, it having been an evening of some small energy expenditure, O my Brothers, so we got rid of the auto and stopped off at the Korova for a nightcap.

Dim moves over to milk machine and speaks to the statue of the nude girl.

Dim: Hello, Lucy, had a busy night?
Puts money in machine.

Dim: We've been working hard, too.

Takes glass.

Dim: Pardon me, Luce.

He raises glass to breast, pulls red handle between her legs. Milk spurts into glass.

Dim joins the others. Alex looks at a party of tourists.

Alex: (Voice Over) There were some sophistos from the TV studios around the corner, laughing and gospeleeting. The devotchka was smeking away, and not caring about the wicked world one bit. Then the disc on the stereo twanged off and out, and in the short silence before the next one came on, she suddenly came with a burst of singing, and it was like for a moment, O my brothers, some great bird had flown into the Milkbar and I felt all the malenky little hairs on my pollt standing endwise, and the shivers crawling up like slow malenky lizards and then down again. Because I knew what she sang. It was a bit from the glorious 9th, by Ludwig van.
Dim makes a lip-trump followed by a dog howl followed by two fingers pronging twice in the air followed by a clowny guffaw.

Alex brings his stick down smartly on Dim's legs.

Dim: What did you do that for?

Alex: For being a bastard with no manners and not a dock of an idea how to comport yourself publicwise, O my brother.

Dim: I don't like you should do what you done. And I'm not your brother no more and wouldn't want to be.

Alex: Watch that... Do watch that, O Dim, if to continue to be on live thou dost wish.

Dim: Yarbles, great bolshy yarblockos to you. I'll meet you with chain or nozh or britva any time, not having you aiming tolchocks at me reasonless. It stands to reason I won't have it.

Alex: A nozh scrap any time you say.

Dim weakens.
Dim: Doobidoob ... a bit tired maybe, everybody is.
A long night for growing malchicks ... best not to say more. Bedways is rightways now, so best we go homeways and get a bit of spatchka. Right, right.

INT. ALEX FLATBLOCK. MAIN LOBBY ENTRANCE - NIGHT.

Alex passes a mural in the hall.
Nude men and women Their massive stylized bodies further embellished and decorated by handy pencil and ballpoint.

The elevator door is buckled.

INT. ALEX FLAT - NIGHT

Alex pees in toilet.

Alex goes into his room.
Tosses his loot into a drawer, full of money,
wristswatches,
cameras, etc.

Fifty small
cover one wall.
He puts his pet boa constrictor on tree branch mounted on the wall, above four Christ figures who have their arms intertwined like a chorus line.

He puts a cassette into the tape player.

A heavy shockwave of sound — Beethoven's 9th.

Alex: (Voice Over) It had been a wonderful evening and what I needed now to give it the perfect ending was a bit of the old Ludwig van.

Music starts.

Alex: (Voice Over) Then, brothers, it came. O bliss, bliss and heaven, oh it was gorgeousness and gorgeousity made flesh. The trombones crunched redgold under my bed, and behind my gulliver the trumpets three-wise, silver-flamed and there by the door the timps rolling through my guts and out again, crunched like candy thunder. It was like a bird of rarest spun heaven metal or like silvery wine flowing in a space ship, gravity all nonsense now.
Alex: (Voice Over) As I slooshied, I knew such lovely pictures. There were vecks and pritsas lying on the ground screaming for mercy and I was smacking all over my rot and grinding my boot into their tortured litsos and there were naked devotchkas ripped and creeching against walls and I plunging like a shлага into them.

INT. ALEX'S BEDROOM - DAY

He is asleep.
The boa curled up at his feet.
There is a knock on the door.

Alex: What d'you want?

Em: It's past eight, Alex, you don't want to be late for school, son.

Alex: Bit of a pain in the gulliver, Mum. Leave us be and I'll try and sleep it off ... then I'll be as right as dodgers for this after.

Em: You've not been to school all week, son.

Alex: I've got to rest, Mum ... got to get fit, otherwise I'm liable to miss a lot more school.

Em: Eeeeee ... I'll put your breakfast in the oven. I've got to be off myself now.

Alex: Alright, Mum ... have a nice day at the factory.
14.1 INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Pee sitting at breakfast table.
Em enters.

Em: He's not feeling too good again this morning, Dad.

Pee: Yes, I heard. D'you know what time he got in last night?

Em: No, I don't know, luv, I'd taken my sleepers.

Pee: I wonder where exactly it is he goes to work of evenings.

Em: Well, like he says, it's mostly odd things he does helping like ... here and there, as it might be.

14.2 INT. EM'S BEDROOM - DAY

Alex comes out of his room and finds
P.R. Deltoid sitting on bed in parents' room.

Alex: Hi, hi, hi there, Mr. Deltoid, funny surprise to see you here.

Deltoid: Ah, Alex boy, awake at last, yes? I met your mother on the way to work, yes? She gave me the key. She said something about a pain somewhere... hence not at school, yes?
Alex: A rather intolerable pain in the head, brother, sir. I think it should be clear by this afterlunch.

Deltoid: Oh, or certainly by this evening, yes? The evening's a great time, isn't it, Alex boy?

Alex: A cup of the old chai, sir?

Deltoid: No time, no time, yes. Sit, sit, sit.

Alex sits next to him.

Alex: To what do I owe this extreme pleasure, sir. Anything wrong, sir?

Deltoid "playfully" grabs Alex's hair.

Deltoid: Wrong, why should you think of anything being wrong, have you been doing something you shouldn't. Yes?

He shakes Alex's hair.

Alex: Just a manner of speech, sir.

Deltoid: Well, yes, it's just a manner of speech from your Post Corrective Adviser to you that you watch out, little Alex.

He puts his arm round Alex's shoulder.
Deltoid: Because next time it's going to be the barry place and all my work ruined. If you've no respect for your horrible self, you at least might have some for me who's sweated over you.

He slaps Alex on the knee.

Deltoid: A big black mark I tell you for every one we don't reclaim. A confession of failure for everyone of you who ends up in the stripy hole.

Alex: I've been doing nothing I shouldn't, sir. The millicents have nothing on me; brother, sir, I mean.

Deltoid pulls Alex down on the bed.

Deltoid: Cut out this clever talk about millicents. Just because the Police haven't picked you up lately doesn't, as you very well know, mean that you've not been up to some nastiness. There was a bit of nastiness last night, yes. Some very extreme nastiness, yes. A few of a certain Billyboy's friends were ambulanced off late, yes. Your name was mentioned, the word's got thru to me by the usual channels. Certain friends of yours were named also. Oh, nobody can prove anything about anybody as usual, but I'm warning you, little Alex, being a good friend to you as always, the one man in this sore and sick community who wants to save you from yourself.
Deltoid makes a grab for Alex's joint but finds his hand instead.
Alex laughs
derisively and rises.
Deltoid distractedly reaches for a glass of water on the night table, and fails to notice a set of false teeth soaking in them.
He drinks from the glass.
The clink of the teeth sounding like ice-cubes.

Deltoid: What gets into you all? We study the problem. We've been studying it for damn well near a century, yes, but we get no further with our studies. You've got a good home here, good loving parents, you've got not too bad of a brain. Is it some devil that crawls inside of you?

Alex: Nobody's got anything on me, brother, sir. I've been out of the rookers of the millicents for a long time now.

Deltoid: That's just what worries me. A bit too long to be reasonable. You're about due now by my reckoning, that's why I'm warning you, little Alex, to keep your handsome young proboscis out of the dirt. Do I make myself clear?
Alex: As an unmuddied lake, sir. Clear as an azure sky of deepest summer. You can rely on me, sir.

Deltoid drinks again but this time sees the teeth in the glass. He groans and retches.

15 INT. MUSIC BOOTH - DAY

Alex enters. Two pretty micro-boppers, Marty and Sonietta, sucking phallic ice sticks.

Alex: Pardon me, brother. I ordered this two weeks ago. Could you see if it's arrived?

Clerk: O.K. I'll see if it's in.

Clerk exits. Alex turns to the girls.

Alex: Pardon me, ladies.

He steps in between them and goes through the motions, looking through the records.
Alex: Enjoying it then, my darling? ... A bit cold and pointless isn't it, my lovely ... What's happened to yours, my little sister?

Marty giggles.

Alex: What you got back home, little sister, to play your fuzzy warbles on? I bet you got little save pitiful portable picnic players. Come with Uncle and hear all proper. Hear angel trumpets and devil trombones. You are invited!

16. OMITTED

17 INT. ALEX'S BEDROOM - DAY

The two girls, naked, jumping up and down on Alex's still unmade bed zonked by the booming, all engulfing sound of Alex's incredible Hi-Fi.

18 OMITTED

19 INT. ALEX'S FLATBLOCK LOBBY HALL - DAY

Alex finds the gang waiting for him.

Alex: Hi, hi, hi, there.

All Three: Well, hello.
Dim: We are here! He have arrived! Hooray!

Alex: Welly, welly, welly, welly, welly, welly, well. To what do I owe the extreme pleasure of this surprising visit?

Georgie rises.

Georgie: We got worried. There we were waiting and drinking away at the old knify Moloko and you had not turned up and we thought you might have been like offended by something or other; so round we come to your abode.

Alex: Appy polly loggies. I had something of a pain in the gulliver so had to sleep. I was not awakened when I gave orders for wakening.

Dim: Sorry about the pain. Using the gulliver too much like, eh? Giving orders and discipline and that perhaps, eh? You sure the pain's gone? You sure you'll not be happier back up in bed?

Alex: Let's get things nice and sparkling clear. This sarcasm, if I may call it such, does not become you, O my little brothers. As I am your droog and leader, I am entitled to know what goes on, eh? Now then, Dim, what does that great big horsy gape of a grin portend?

Georgie: All right, no more picking on Dim, brother. That's part of the new way.

Alex: New way? What's this about a new way? There's been some very large talk behind my sleeping back, and no error. Let me hear more.
Georgie: Well, we go round shop crasting and the like, coming out with a pitiful rookerful of money each.

Dim: Pitiful rookerful ....

Georgie: And there's Will the English in the Musclemesogo meato saying he can fence anything that any malchick tries to crast.

Dim: Yeah ... Will the English.

Georgie: The shiny stuff. The ice. The big, big big money is available's what Will the English says.

Dim: Big, big money.

Alex: And what will you do with the big, big money? Have you not everything you need? If you need a motor-car, you pluck it from the trees. If you need pretty poily, you take it.

Georgie: Brother, you think and talk sometimes like a little child. Tonight we pull a mansize crast.

Alex: Good. Real horrorshow. Initiative comes to them as waits. I've taught you much, my little droogies. Now tell me what you have in mind, Georgie Boy.

Georgie: Oh, the old moloko-plus first, would you not say.

Dim: Moloko-plus.

Georgie: Something to sharpen us up, but you especially. We have the start.
EXT. FLATBLOCK MARINA - DAY

The Gang come out of the flatblock and walk along the Marina.

Alex: (Voice Over) As we walked along the flatblock marina, I was calm on the outside but thinking all the time, so now it was to be Georgie the General, saying what we should do and what not to do, and Dim as his mindless, grinning bulldog. But, suddenly, I viddied that thinking was for the gloopy ones and that the oomny ones use like inspiration and what Bog sends, for now it was lovely music that came to my aid, and I viddied at once what to do.
There was a window open with a stereo on.

IN SLOW MOTION
Alex clubs Georgie into water with his stick.
Dim swings chain.
Alex ducks.
Dim goes into water.

Alex kneels, hands behind back, takes knife from sword stick, offers hand to help
Dim, and slashes
Dim when he gets it.
20.1 INT. DUKE OF NEW YORK PUB.

The four boys sit round table.

Alex: (Voice Over) I had not put into any of Dim's main cables and so, with the help of a clean tashtook, the red, red kroovy soon stopped, and it did not take long to quieten the two wounded soldiers, down in the snug of the Duke of New York. Now they knew who was Master and Leader. Sheep, thought I, but a real leader knows always when like to give and show generous to his unders.

Alex: Well, now we're back to where we were. Yes? Just like before and all forgotten. Right, right, right.

All Boys: Right. Right. Right.

Alex: Well, Georgie Boy. This idea you've got for tonight. Well, tell us about it then.

Georgie: Not tonight - not this nochy.

Alex: Come, come, come, Georgie Boy. You're a big strong chelloveck like us all. We're not little children are we, Georgie Boy? What then didst thou in thy mind have?
Confrontation.
Georgie backs down.

Georgie: It's this Health Farm. A bit out of the town. Isolated. It's owned by this like very rich ptitsa who lives there with her cats. The place is shut down for a week and she's completely on her own, and it's full up with like gold and silver and like jewels.

Alex: Tell me more, Georgie Boy.

INT. CATLADY HOUSE

Catlady doing yoga exercises.

Room is full of cats.
Doorbell rings.

Catlady: (softly to herself) Oh, shit.

She goes to door.

EXT. CATLADY HOUSE

Catlady: Who's there?

Alex: Excuse me, missus, can you please help? There's been a terrible accident. Can I please use your telephone for an ambulance?

Catlady: I'm frightfully sorry. There is a telephone in the Public House about a mile down the road. I suggest you use that.
Alex: But, missus, this is an emergency. It's a matter of life and death. My friend's lying in the middle of the road bleeding to death.

Catlady: I... I'm very sorry, but I never open. I'm very sorry but I never open the door to strangers after dark.

Alex: Very well, madam. I suppose you can't be blamed for being suspicious with so many scoundrels and rogues of the night about.

Alex walks away from door, then ducks into the bushes where the others are hiding. They put on their maskies and follow Alex round to the rear of the house.

Alex: Dim, bend down. (Alex points to an upstairs window) I'm gonna get in that window and open the front door.

He climbs up drain-pipe to the bathroom window.
INT CATLADY HOUSE.

The Catlady enters and dials a number.

Catlady: Hullo, Radlett Police Station. Good evening. It's Miss Weathers at Woodmere Health Farm. Look, I'm frightfully sorry to bother you but something rather odd has happened. .... Well, it's probably nothing at all, but you never know... Well, a young man rang the bell asking to use the telephone .... He said there had been some kind of accident. The thing that caught my attention was what he said - the words he used, they sounded exactly like what was quoted in the papers this morning in connection with the writer and his wife who were assaulted last night ... Well, just a few minutes ago ... Well, if you think that's necessary, but, well, I'm quite sure he's gone away now. Oh .. alright. Fine. Thank you very much. Thank you.

She puts phone down, turns and nearly jumps out of her leotard when she sees Alex
in the doorway.

Alex: Hi, hi, hi there, at last we meet.

Catlady: What the bloody hell d'you think you're doing?

Alex: Our brief govoreet thru the letter hole was not, shall we say, satisfactory, yes.
Catlady: Now listen here, you little bastard, just you turn around and you walk out of here the same way as you came in.

Alex eyes a giant white, fibre glass phallic sculpture on the table beside him.

Alex: Naughty, naughty, naughty, you filthy old soomka.

Catlady: No! No! Don't touch it. That's a very important work of art. What the bloody hell do you want?

Alex: You see, madam, I am part of an international students' contest to see who can get the most points for selling magazines.

Catlady: Cut the shit, sonny, and get out of here before you get yourself into some very serious trouble.

He rocks the giant phallus which has a special weight swinging inside causing it to swing up and down with an eccentric motion.

Catlady: I told you to leave it alone. Now get out of here before I throw you out, wretched slummy bedbug. I'll teach you breaking into real people's houses. Get out!
She grabs up a bust of Beethoven and rushes at Alex. He grabs the giant phallic sculpture.

Circling, Alex fends off her mad rushes with skilful jabs of the giant phallus.

She ducks under and clobbers him with the heavy bust of Beethoven.

He goes down, pulling her off balance and they both wind up on the floor.

In the struggle, Alex bashes her with the phallus.

Distant police sirens.

He exits.

23 EXT. CATLADY'S HOUSE - NIGHT.

Alex rushes out.
Dim and the others are waiting.

Alex: Come on. Let's go, the Police are coming.
23 continued - 1

Dim: One minoota, droogie.

Dim smashes Alex in the face with a full milk bottle. He goes down. The others run away, laughing.

Alex: (screaming) You bastards... bastards.

24 INT. POLICE HQ - NIGHT

Inspector takes out cigarette and lights up.

Inspector: Right. Right, Tom, we'll have to show our little friend, Alex, here that we know the law, too, but that knowing the law isn't everything. He nods to Fatneck.

Fatneck: That's a nasty cut you've got there, little Alex. Spoils... all your beauty. Who gave you that then... eh... eh...

He presses Alex's nose, inflicting great pain. Alex sinks to his knees.

Alex: Ow... what was that for, you bastard?

Fatneck: That was for your lady victim. You ghastly wretched scoundrel.
Alex grabs his balls.

Alex is beaten by the other cops.

Inspector exits to outside office where Sergeant sits, sipping a cup of tea.

Deltoid has just entered.

Inspector: Sergeant.

Sergeant: Sir.

Inspector: Ah, good evening, Mr. Deltoid.

Deltoid: Evening, Inspector.

Sergeant: Would you like your tea now, sir?

Inspector: No, thank you, Sergeant. We'll have it later. May I have some paper towels, please.

Sergeant: Yes, sir.

Inspector: We're interrogating the prisoner now. Perhaps you'd care to come inside.

Deltoid: Thank you very much.
They move into Interrogation Room.

Alex is on the floor in the corner covered with blood.

Deltoid: Evening, Sergeant. Evening, all. Dear, dear, dear, this boy does look a mess, doesn't he? Just look at the state of him.

Fatneck: Love's young nightmare-like.

Inspector: Violence makes violence. He resisted his lawful arrestors.

Deltoid: Well, it's happened, Alex boy, yes. Just as I thought it would, yes. Dear, dear, dear. Well, this is the end of the line for me... the end of the line, yes.

Alex: It wasn't me, brother, sir. Speak up for me, sir, for I'm not so bad. I was led on by the treachery of others, sir.

Inspector: Sings the roof off lovely, he does that.

Alex: Where are my stinking traitorous droogs. Get them before they get away. It was all their idea, brothers. They forced me to do it. I'm innocent.

Deltoid: You are now a murderer, little Alex. A murderer, yes.
Alex: Not true, sir. It was only a slight tolock. She was breathing, I swear it.

Deltoid: I have just come back from the hospital. Your victim has died.

Alex: You tried to frighten me, sir, admit so, sir. This is some new form of torture. Say it, brother, sir.

Deltoid: It will be your own torture. I hope to God it will torture you to madness.

Fatneck: If you'd care to give him a bash in the chops, sir. Don't mind us. We'll hold him down. He must be a great disappointment to you, sir.

Deltoid spits in Alex's face.

24.1 HELICOPTER VIEWS OF PRISON

Alex: (Voice Over) This is the real weepy and like tragic part of the story beginning, 0 my brothers and only friends. After a trial with judges and a jury, and some very hard words spoken against your friend and humble narrator, he was sentenced to 14 years in Staja No. 84F among smelly perverts and hardened prestoopnicks, the shock sending my dadda beating his bruised and kroovy rookers against unfair Bog in his Heaven, and my mum boohoohooing in her mother's grief at her only child and son of her bosom, like letting everybody down real horrorshow.
24.2: INT. PRISON CHECK-IN ROOM - DAY

A bell rings and a warder goes and unlocks first a wooden door and then a barred door.

Guard: Morning. One in from Thames, Mister.

Warder: One in from Thames, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. Open up, Mister.

Warder: Yes, sir.

He opens door and steps back. Alex and another Warder move to Reception desk.

Warder: Good morning, sir. Committal sheet.

Chief Guard: (who shouts everything) Thank you, Mister.

He signs sheet.

Chief Guard: Name?

Alex: Alexander de Large.

Chief Guard: You are now in H.M. Prison Parkmoor and from this moment you will address all prison officers as sir! Name?
Alex: Alexander de Large, sir.

Chief Guard: Crime?

Alex: Murder, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. Take the cuffs off him, Mister.

The cuffs are removed.

Chief Guard: You are now 655321 and it is your duty to memorise that number.

He hands clipboard back to Warder.

Chief Guard: Thank you, Mister. Well done.

Warder: Thank you, Chief.

Chief Guard: Let the officer out.

Officer exits.

Chief Guard: Right. Empty your pockets!

Alex moves to desk and leans on it.

Chief Guard: Are you able to see that white line painted on the floor directly behind you, 655321?

Alex: Yes, sir.
Chief Guard: Then your toes belong to the other side of it!!!

Alex moves back behind the line.

Alex: (quietly) Yes, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. Carry on.

Alex tosses a bar of chocolate on the desk.

Chief Guard: Pick that up and put it down properly.

Alex does so, and continues to empty his pockets.

Chief Guard: One bar of chocolate. One bunch of keys with white metal ring. One packet of cigarettes. Two plastic ball pens - one black, one red. One pocket comb - black plastic. One address book - imitation red leather. One ten penny piece. One white metal wristlet watch, "Timawrist" on a white metal expanding bracelet. Anything else in your pockets?

Alex: No, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. Sign here for your valuable property.

Alex signs
Chief Guard: The chocolate and cigarettes you brought in - you lose that as you are now convicted. Now go over to the table and get undressed.

Alex walks to table and undresses. Chief Guard moves to table with his clipboard.

Chief Guard: Now then, were you in Police custody this morning?

Alex: No, sir.

Check-In: One jacket - blue pinstripe.

Chief Guard: Prison custody?

Alex: Yes, sir. On remand, sir.

Check-In: One neck tie - blue.

Alex: C of E, sir.

Chief Guard: Do you mean Church of England?

Alex: Yes, sir, Church of England, sir.

Chief Guard: Blue eyes?
Alex: Blue eyes, yes, sir.

Check-In: One pair of underpants - white with blue waistband.

Chief Guard: Are you now, or ever have been, a homosexual?

Alex: No, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. The mothballs, Mister.

Check-In: Mothballs, sir.

Chief Guard: Now then. Face the wall. Bend over and touch your toes.

Chief Guard inspects Alex's anus with a penlight.

Chief Guard: Mmmmmmm..... any venereal disease?

Alex: No, sir.

Chief Guard: Crabs?

Alex: No, sir.

Chief Guard: Lice?

Alex: No, sir.

Chief Guard: Through there for a bath.

Alex: Yes, sir.

INT. PRISON CHAPEL - DAY

Priest, in pulpit big rough state-trooper fuse.
Convict audience.

Alex sits apart tending an overhead projector.

Priest: I ask you friends. What's it going to be then? Is it going to be in and out of institutions like this? Or more in than out for most of you? Or are you going to attend the divine word and realise the punishment that awaits unrepentant sinners in the next world as well as this. A lot of idiots you are, selling your birthright for a saucer of cold porridge. The thrill of theft, violence. The urge to live easy. I ask you friends, is it worth it? When we have undeniable proof – yes, my friends, incontrovertible evidence that Hell exists. I know, I know, my friends. I have been informed in visions that there is a place darker than any prison, hotter than any human flame of fire, where unrepentant criminals, sinners like yourselves ...

A convict burps. All laugh.

Priest: Don't you laugh, damn you, don't you laugh. I say like yourselves – scream in endless and unendurable agony. Their nostrils choked with the smell of filth, their mouths crammed with burning ordure. Their skins rotting and peeling. A fireball spinning in their screaming guts. I know... Oh yes, I know.
A convict lets rip some lip music - Prrrrrrrp.
There is laughter.
Chief Guard moves forward - points.

Chief Guard: I saw you, 920537. I saw you.

Convict: Up yours, mate.

Chief Guard: Just you wait, 744678. One on the turnip coming up for you.

We will now sing Hymn 258 in the Prisoner's Hymnal.

Piano starts up and Alex starts up overhead projector which displays the words of the hymn.

Chief Guard: Show a little reverence, you bastards.
Quiet!

Convicts and all start to sing.

Singing: I was a wandering sheep
I did not love ...

Chief Guard: Sing up damn you. Louder, Sing up.
Singing: ....... the fold
I did not love my shepherd's voice.
I would not be controlled.

Chief Guard: Come on, sing up, damn you.

Singing: I was a wayward child
I did not love my home
I did not love my Father's voice
I loved afar to roam.

Alex: (Voice Over) It had not been edifying, indeed not, being in this hell hole and human zoo for two years now, being kicked and tolchocked by brutal warders, and meeting leering criminals and perverts, ready to dribble all over a luscious young malchick like your story-teller.

INT. PRIEST'S LIBRARY.—DAY

Alex reading the Bible.

Alex: (Voice Over) It was my rabbit to help the prison charlie with the Sunday service. He was a bolshy great burly bastard, but he was very fond of myself, me being very young, and also now very interested in the big book.

Priest walks by and nods pleasantly.
Alex: (Voice Over) It had been arranged by the prison charlie, as part of my further education to read him the Bible. I didn't so much like the latter part of the book which is more like all preachy talking, than fighting and the old in-out. I liked the parts where these old yahoodies tolchock each other and drink their Hebrew vine, then getting onto the bed with their wives' handmaidens. That kept me going.

BIBLE FANTASY - FIGHTING - DAY

Biblical fighting shot.
Alex slashing away.
Blood spurting.

HANDMAIDEN FANTASY IN TENT - DAY

Alex lying with three semi-nude handmaidens.

EXT. BIBLICAL STREET

Christ being whipped on by Alex, dressed as a Legionary.

Alex: Move on there. Move on.
Alex: (Voice Over) I read all about the scourging and the crowning with thorns and all that, and I could viddy myself helping in and even taking charge of the tolchooking and the nailing in, being dressed in the height of Roman fashion.

Back to the Library. Alex sits with his eyes closed.

Priest comes over and squeezes his shoulder.

Alex looks up at him and smiles.

Priest: (Reading from Alex's Bible) Seek not to be like evil men, neither desire to be with them, because their minds studieth robberies and their lips speak deceits.

Alex: If thou lose hope being weary in the day of distress, thy strength shall be diminished.

Priest: Fine, my boy, fine, fine.

Alex: Father, I have tried, have I not?

Priest: You have, my son.

Alex: I've done my best, have I not?
Priest: Indeed.

Alex: And, Father, I've not been guilty of any institutional infractions, have I?

Priest: You certainly have not, 655321. You've been very helpful and you've shown a genuine desire to reform.

Alex: Father - may I ask you a question in private?

Priest: Certainly, my son, certainly. Is there something troubling you, my son. Don't be shy to speak up. Remember, I know of the urges that can trouble young men deprived of the society of women.

Alex: No, Father. It's not that, Father. It's about this new thing they're all talking about. About this new treatment that gets you out of prison in no time at all and makes sure you never get back in again.

Priest: Where did you hear about this? Whose been talking about these things?

Alex: These things get around, Father. Two Warders talk as it might be, and somebody can't help overhearing what they say. Then somebody picks up a scrap of newspaper in the workshops and the newspaper tells all about it. How about putting me in for this new treatment, Father?

Priest: I take it you are referring to the Ludovico Technique?
Alex: I don't know what it's called, Father, all I know is that it gets you out quickly and makes sure you never get in again.

Priest: That is not proven, 655321. In fact, it is only in the experimental stage at this moment.

Alex: But it is being used, isn't it, Father?

Priest: It has not been used yet in this prison. The Governor has grave doubts about it and I have heard that there are very serious dangers involved.

Alex: I don't care about the danger, Father. I just want to be good. I want the rest of my life to be one act of goodness.

Priest: The question is whether or not this technique really makes a man good. Goodness comes from within. Goodness is chosen. When a man cannot choose he ceases to be a man.

Alex: I don't understand the whys and wherefores, Father. I only know I want to be good.

Priest: Be patient, my son, and put your trust in the Lord.

Alex: Instruct thy son and he shall refresh thee and shall give delight to thy soul.

Priest: Amen.

They cross themselves.
Prisoners walking in circles.

Guards stand either side of cell doors.

Chief Guard with Governor, Minister and entourage.

Chief Guard: Mister.

Guard: All present and correct, sir.

Chief Guard: Right. All present and correct, sir.

Governor: Very good, Chief.

They inspect cells.

Chief Guard: Leave to carry on, sir, please?

Governor: Carry on, Chief.

Chief Guard: Sir.

Chief Guard comes out of door.
Chief Guard: Right, pay attention. I want you in two lines. Up against that wall facing this way. Go on move! Hurry up about it and stop talking.

The men line up.
Chief Guard moves back to door and comes to attention.

Chief Guard: Ready for inspection, Sir.

He stands back and salutes as Governor, Minister and entourage enter and walk along line of men.

Minister: How many to a cell?

Governor: Four in this block, sir.

Minister: Cram criminals together and what do you get - concentrated criminality... crime in the midst of punishment.

Governor: I agree, sir. What we need is larger prisons. More money.

Minister: Not a chance, my dear fellow. The Government can't be concerned any longer with outmoded penological theories. Soon we may be needing all our prison space for political offenders. Common criminals like these are best dealt with on a purely curative basis. Kill the criminal reflex that's all. Full implementation in a year's time. Punishment means nothing to them, you can see that.... they enjoy their so-called punishment.
Alex seizes his chance as they pass by.

Alex: You're absolutely right, sir.

Chief Guard: Shut your bleedin' hole!!!

Minister: Who said that?

Alex: I did, sir.

Minister: What crime did you commit?

Alex: The accidental killing of a person, sir.

Chief Guard: He brutally murdered a woman, sir, in furtherance of theft. 14 years... sir!

Minister: Excellent. He's enterprising, aggressive outgoing. Young, Bold. Vicious. He'll do.

Governor: Well, fine... we could still look at C-Block.

Minister: No, no, no. That's enough. He's perfect. I want his records sent to me. This vicious young hoodlum will be transformed out of all recognition.

Alex: Thank you very much for this chance, sir.

Minister: Let's hope you make the most of it, my boy.

Governor: Shall we go to my office?

Minister: Thank you.
Governor seated at his desk. There is a knock on the door.

Governor: Come in.

Door opens. Chief Guard enters with Alex.

Chief Guard: Sir. 655321, sir!

Governor: Very good, Chief.

Chief Guard turns to Alex.

Chief Guard: Forward to the white line, toes behind it. Full name and number to the Governor.

Chief Guard closes door.

Alex: Alexander de Large, sir. 655321, sir.

The Governor takes off his glasses.
Governor: I don't suppose you know who that was this morning, do you? That was no less personage than the Minister of the Interior. The new Minister of the Interior and what they call a very new broom. Well, these new ridiculous ideas have come at last, and orders are orders, though I may say to you in confidence that I do not approve. An eye for an eye I say, if someone hits you, you hit back, do you not? Why then should not the State very severely hit by you brutal offenders not hit back also? But the new view is to say no. The new view is that we turn the bad into good. All of which seems to be grossly unjust. Hmmmmm.

Alex: Sir ....

Chief Guard: Shut your filthy hole, you scum!!

Governor: You are to be reformed. Tomorrow you go to this man, Brodsky. You will be leaving here. You will be transferred to the Ludovico Medical Facility. It is believed that you will be able to leave State custody in a little over a fortnight. I suppose that prospect pleases you?

Chief Guard: Answer when the Governor asks you a question you filthy young swine!

Alex: Oh yes, sir. Thank you very much, sir. I've done my best here I really have, sir. I'm very grateful to all concerned.

Governor: Sign this - where it's marked.

Alex turns the paper to read it.
Chief Guard: Don't read it — sign it!!

Governor: It says that you are willing to have the residue of your sentence commuted to the Ludovico treatment.

Alex signs.
Governor gathers up papers.

Alex dots the last "i" and smiles.

INT LUDOVICO CENTRE RECEPTION DESK — DAY

Alex: (Voice Over) The next morning I was taken to the Ludovico Medical Facility, outside the town centre, and I felt a malenky bit sad having to say goodbye to the old Staja, as you always will when you leave a place you've like got used to.

Chief Guard briskly leads the way for Alex and escort. They move into reception hall where the Doctor stands.

Chief Guard: (shouting like an RSH) Right. Halt the prisoner. Good morning, sir. I'm Chief Officer Barnes. I've got 655321 on a transfer from Parkmoor to the Ludovico Centre, sir.

Doctor: Good morning, we've been expecting you. I'm Doctor Alcott.
Chief Guard checks the name from his clipboard.

Chief Guard: Yes, Dr. Alcott. Are you prepared to accept the prisoner, sir?

Doctor: Yes, of course.

Chief Guard: Well, I wonder if you'd mind signing these transfer documents, sir.

Doctor signs.

Chief Guard: Thank you, sir. There, sir... there, and there, sir... and there. Thank you, sir. Prisoner and escort move forward. Halt. Excuse me, sir. Is that the officer that is to take charge of the prisoner, sir?

Doctor nods.
Officer steps forward.

Chief Guard: If I may offer a word of advice, Doc. You'll have to watch this one. A right brutal bastard he has been and will be again. In spite of all his sucking up to the prison Chaplain and reading the Bible.

Doctor: Oh, I think we can manage things. Charlie, will you show the young man to his room now?

Charlie: Right, sir. Come this way, please.

Alex exits with officer.
INT. ALEX'S ROOM. LUDOVICO CENTRE - DAY

Alex finishing breakfast tray in bed.

Room bright and cheery.

Dr. Branom, a tall woman in her fifties, enters with nurse carrying a sterile tray.

Dr. Branom: (very briskly) Good morning, Alex, my name is Dr. Branom. I'm Doctor Brodsky's assistant.

Alex: Good morning, Missus. Lovely day, isn't it?

Dr. Branom: Indeed it is. May I take this?

She removes his tray.

Dr. Branom: How're you feeling this morning?

Alex: Fine ... fine.

Dr. Branom: Good. In a few minutes, you'll be meeting Dr. Brodsky and we'll begin your treatment. You're a very lucky boy to have been chosen.

Alex: I realise all that, Missus, and I'm very grateful to all concerned.
Dr. Branom: We're going to be friends then, aren't we, Alex?

Alex: I hope so, Missus.

Nurse takes hypo from tray, fills it from serum bottle.

She hands it to Dr. Branom.

Alex: What's the hypo for then - gonna send me to sleep?

Dr. Branom: Oh, no, nothing of the sort.

Alex: Vitamins will it be, then?

Dr. Branom: Something like that. You're a little undernourished, so after every meal we're going to give you a shot. Roll over on your right side, please, loosen your pyjama pants and pull them half way down.
Alex rolls over,
pulls down pants.
Dr. Branom injects him.

Alex: What exactly is the treatment going to be then?

Dr. Branom: Oh, it's quite simple, really. We're just goin' to show you some films.

Alex: You mean, like going to the pictures?

Dr. Branom: Something like that.

Alex: Well, that's good. I like to viddy the old films now and again.

Alex: (Voice Over) And viddy films I would.
Where I was taken to, brothers, was like no sinny I ever viddied before.

INT. AUDIO-VISUAL THEATER. LUDOVICO CENTRE - DAY

Group of doctors seated at one end of theatre. Alex strapped to a chair, tended by another doctor.
Alex: (Voice Over) I was bound up in a straitjacket and my gulliver was strapped to a headrest with like wires running from it. Then they clamped like lidlocks on my eyes so that I could not shut them, no matter how hard I tried. It seemed a bit crazy to me but I let them get on with.

Doctor leans over
Alex and puts drops in his eyes.

Dr. Brodsky and Dr. Branom join group of doctors.

Alex: (Voice Over) If I was to be a free young malchick again in a fortnight's time, I would put up with much in the meantime, O my brothers.

MUGGING FILM

Music
Man being kicked punched down fire escape.

Alex: (Voice Over) So far, the first film was a very good, professional piece of sinny like it was done in Hollywood.
Screams
Moans
Kicks
Punches

Alex: (Voice Over) The sounds were real horrorshow. You could slooshy the screams and moans very realistic and you could even get the heavy breathing and panting of the tolchocking malchicks at the same time. And then, what do you know, soon our dear old friend, the red, red vino on tap. The same in all places like it's put out by the same big firm, began to flow. It was beautiful. It's funny how the colors of the real world only seem really real when you viddy them on a screen.

More Kicks Punches
Groans Thumps.
Girl being beaten raped by six toughs.

Screams
Music
Laughing
Grunts
Heavy breathing.

Alex: (Voice Over) Now all the time I was watching this, I was beginning to get very aware of like not feeling all that well, but I tried to forget this, concentrating on the next film, which jumped right away on a young devotchka, who was being given the old in-out, in-out, first by one malchick, then another, then another. This seemed real, very real, though if you thought about it properly you couldn't imagine lewdies actually agreeing to having all this done to them in a film, and if these films were made by the good, or the State, you couldn't imagine them being allowed to take these films, without like interfering with what was going on.

Girl being raped.
Alex: (Voice Over) When it came to the sixth or seventh malchick, leering and sneering and then going into it, I began to feel really sick. But I could not shut my glazzies and even if I tried to move my glazballs about I still could not get out of the line of fire of this picture.

Alex squirming and retching.

Dr. Brodsky clears his throat and quietly addresses his colleagues seated in the back of the room.

Dr. Brodsky: Very soon now the drug will cause the subject to experience a death-like paralysis together with deep feelings of terror and helplessness. One of our early test subjects described it as being like death, a sense of stifling or drowning, and it is during this period we have found that the subject will make his most rewarding associations between his catastrophic experience environment and the violence he sees.

Alex retching violently and struggling against his strait jacket.

Alex: Let me be sick ... I want to get up. Get me something to be sick in... Stop the film... Please stop it. I can't stand it any more. Stop it please... please.
INT ALEX'S ROOM LUDOVICO - DAY

Alex in bed.
Dr. Branom seated next to him with cup of tea.

Dr. Branom: Well, that was a very promising start. By my calculations, you should be starting to feel alright again. Yes? Dr. Brodsky's pleased with you. Now tomorrow there'll be two sessions, of course, morning and afternoon.

Alex: You mean, I have to viddy two sessions in one day?

Dr. Branom: I imagine you'll be feeling a little bit limp by the end of the day. But we have to be hard on you. You have to be cured.

Alex: But it was horrible.

Dr. Branom: Well, of course, it was horrible. Violence is a very horrible thing. That's what you're learning now. Your body is learning it.

Alex: I just don't understand about feeling sick the way I did. I never used to feel sick before. I used to feel like the very opposite. I mean, doing it or watching it, I used to feel real horrorshow. I just don't understand why, how or what.

Dr. Branom: You felt ill this afternoon because you're getting better. You see, when we're healthy we respond to the presence of the hateful with fear and nausea. You're becoming healthy that's all. By this time tomorrow you'll be healthier still.
Alex retching
and screaming - restrained again by a strait-jacket.

Alex: (Voice Over). It was the next day, brothers, and I had truly done my best, morning and afternoon, to play it their way and sit like a horrorshow co-operative malchick in the chair of torture, while they flashed nasty bits of ultra-violence on the screen; though not on the soundtrack, my brothers. The only sound being music. Then I noticed in all my pain and sickness what music it was that like cracked and boomed. It was Ludwig van - 9th symphony, 4th movement.

Alex: Stop it! ... stop it, please!!! I beg you!!! It's a sin!! It's a sin !!! It's a sin, please !!!

Brodsky leans forward and turns down the sound.

Dr. Brodsky: What's all this about sin?

Alex: That! ... Using Ludwig van like that! He did no harm to anyone. Beethoven just wrote music.

Dr. Branom: Are you referring to the background score?

Alex: Yes!!
Dr. Branom: You've heard Beethoven before?

Alex: Yes!!

Dr. Branom: You're keen on music?

Alex: Yes!!!

Dr. Branom: (quietly) What do you think about that, Dr. Brodsky?

Dr. Brodsky: (softly) It can't be helped. Here's your punishment element perhaps. The Governor ought to be pleased ... I'm sorry, Alex, this is for your own good, you'll have to bear with us for a while.

Alex: You needn't take it any further, sir. You've proved to me that all this ultra-violence and killing is wrong, wrong and terribly wrong. I've learned my lesson, sir. I see now what I've never seen before. I'm cured, praise Bog!

Dr. Brodsky: You're not cured yet, my boy.

Alex: But, Sir ... Missus ... I see that it's wrong! It's wrong because it's against like society. It's wrong because everyone has the right to live and be happy without being tolchocked and knifed.

Dr. Brodsky: No, no, my boy. You really must leave it to us, but be cheerful about it. In less than a fortnight now, you will be a free man.
INT. AUDITORIUM - DAY

VIP audience including press Minister
Junior Minister Prison Governor Priest
Dr. Branom
Dr. Brodsky.

Dressed in his street clothes
Alex enters led by a white-coated technician.

He is led onto stage and left standing there, blinking into the lights.

The Minister rises and walks to the front of the auditorium.
Minister: Ladies and gentlemen, at this point, we introduce the subject himself. He is, as you will perceive, fit and well nourished. He comes straight from a night's sleep and a good breakfast, undrugged, unhypnotised. Tomorrow, we send him with confidence out into the world again, as decent a lad as you would meet on a May morning, inclined to the kindly word and the helpful act. What a change is here, Ladies and Gentlemen, from the wretched hoodlum the State committed to unprofitable punishment some two years ago, unchanged after two years. Unchanged do I say — not quite. Prison taught him a false smile, the rubbed hands of hypocrisy, the fawning, greased, obsequious leer. Other vices prison taught him as well as confirming him in those he had long practised before. Our party promised to restore law and order and to make the streets safe for the ordinary peace loving citizen. This pledge is now about to become a reality. Ladies and Gentlemen, this is an historic moment. The problem of criminal violence is soon to be a thing of the past. But enough of words — actions speak louder than. Action now. Observe all.

He returns to his seat and leans close to his Junior Minister.

Junior Minister: Our necks are out a long way on this, Minister.
Minister: I have complete faith in Brodsky. If the polls are right, we have nothing to lose.

Lights are dimmed Enter Lardface, an elegantly dressed fag.

Lardface: Hello, heap of dirt. Pooh, you don't wash much do you, judging by the horrible smell.

Alex: Why do you say that, brother. I had a shower this morning.

Lardface: Oh, he had a shower this morning. You trying to call me a liar?

Alex: No, brother, What d'you want?

Lardface: What do I want?

Alex: Sorry, brother. I didn't mean any offence.

Lardface: Oh. Oh, you're sorry are you, well you must think I'm awfully stupid.

He slaps
Alex
in the face.

Alex: Why did you do that, brother? I've never done wrong to you.

Lardface: You want to know why I did that, well you see - I do that,

He stamps on Alex's foot.
Lardface: ... and this ...

He pulls Alex's nose.

Lardface: ... and that ...

He pulls Alex's ear, pushes him off balance and plants his foot on his chest.

Lardface: ... because I don't like your horrible type, do I, and if you want to start something ... if you want to start ... go on... well, you just start. Please do.

Alex retching.

Alex: I'm gonna be sick.

Lardface: You're gonna be sick are you?

Alex: I wanna be sick.

Lardface: You wanna be sick?

Alex: Let me get up.

Lardface: You wanna get up? Well, you've gotta do something for me first. Now see that shoe ... you see... well I want you to lick it. Go on...
Lick it.
Alex, gagging and coughing licks the sole of his shoe.

Lardface: ... And again .. Go on!! Again!
There's a good boy.

Alex: (Voice Over) And, O my brothers, would you believe your faithful friend and long suffering narrator pushed out his red yahzik a mile and a half to lick the grahnny, vonny boots. The horrible killing sickness had whooshed up and turned the like joy of battle into a feeling I was going to snuff it.

Minister rises.

Minister: 'Enough! That will do very well. Thank you.

Lardface does leading-man-bows
A smattering of applause.

Lardface: Thank you very much, Ladies and Gentlemen... Thank you.

Alex on floor - still retching.

A beautiful nude girl enters.

Alex looks up slowly.
Alex: (Voice Over) She came towards me with the light like it was the like light of heavenly grace, and the first thing that flashed into my gulliver was that I would like to have her right down there on the floor with the old in-out, real savage. But quick as a shot came the sickness, like a detective that had been watching around the corner and now followed to make his arrest.

Alex retching.
Minister rises.

Minister: Thank you very much. Thank you, my dear.

Girl bows and exits to loud applause.

Minister: Feeling not too bad now are you?

Alex: (pulling himself together) No, sir, I feel great.

Minister: Good.

Alex: Was it alright, sir? Did I do well, sir?

Minister: Fine. Absolutely fine. You see, Ladies and Gentlemen our subject is, you see, impelled towards good by paradoxically being impelled towards evil. The intention to act violently is accompanied by strong feelings of physical distress. To counter these, the subject has to switch to a diametrically opposed attitude. Any questions?
Priest rises and moves to Alex.

Priest: Choice! The boy has no real choice has he? Self interest, fear of physical pain drove him to that grotesque act of self abasement. Its insincerity was clearly to be seen. He ceases to be a wrongdoer. He ceases also to be a creature capable of moral choice.

Minister: Padre, these are subtleties! We are not concerned with motive, with the higher ethics; We are concerned only with cutting down crime. And with relieving the ghastly congestion in our prisons ... He will be your true Christian, ready to turn the other cheek. Ready to be crucified rather than crucify, sick to the very heart at the thought even of killing a fly. Reclamation, joy before the angels of God. The point is that it works!

Applause.

Alex walking carrying his prison parcel wrapped in brown paper.
INT. ALEX FLAT

Ma, Pa and Joe the Lodger reading newspapers Headlines — all Alex.

Alex enters quietly.
Loud radio music from sitting room prevents anyone from hearing him.
He enters his own room which is the first off the hall.

Alex: Hi. Hi. Hi, there. My Pee and Em.

All three look up startled.

Em: Alex.

Alex: (to his mother) Hullo love, how are you?
(kisses her) Nice to see you, Dad.

Pee: Hullo lad. What a surprise, good to see you.

Alex: Keeping fit then?

Pee: (very ill at ease) Fine, fine.

Alex: Well, how are you then?

Pee: Oh fine, fine. Keeping out of trouble, you know.
Alex: Well - I'm back.

Pee: (with feigned enthusiasm) Aye. Glad to see you back, lad.

Em: Why didn't you let us know what was happening, son?

Alex: Sorry, Em, I wanted it to be like ... a big surprise for you and Pee.

Pee: Well, it's a surprise all right, a bit bewildering too.

Em: We've only just read about it in morning papers.

Pee: Aye. You should have let us know, lad, not that we're not very pleased to see you again. All cured too, eh?

Alex: That's right, Dad. They did a great job on me gulliver, I'm completely reformed.

Pee: Aye.

Alex: (looks in the kitchen) Well, still the same old place then, eh?

Pee: Oh, aye, aye.

Alex: (fake whisper) Hey, Dad, there's a strange fella sitting on the sofa there munching-lurching lorticks of toast.

Pee: Aye, that's Joe. He... ummm, lives here now. The lodger. That's what he is ... he... he rents your room.
Alex confronts Joe.

Alex: How do you do, Joe? Find the room comfortable, do you? No complaints?

Joe rises and squares off eyeball to eyeball with Alex.

Joe: I've heard about you. I know what you've done. Breaking the hearts of your poor grieving parents. So you're back. You're back to make a life of misery for your lovely parents once more, is that it? Well, over my dead corpse you will, because you see, they've let me be more like a son to them than like a lodger.

Alex cocks his fist and starts to retch violently, almost at the same moment Joe drops back on the couch next to Em.

Em: Joe! Joe! Don't fight here boys!

Alex burps and retches.

Joe: Oh, please. Do put your hand over your mouth, it's bloody revolting.

Alex violently ill.
Pee: Well, what's the matter lad, are you feeling alright?

Em: Dad... It's the treatment.

More retching.

Joe: Well, it's disgusting. It puts you off your food.

Em: Leave him be, Joe. It's the treatment.

Pee: D'you think we should do something?

Em: Would you like me to make you a nice cup of tea, son?

Alex: No thanks, Mum. It'll pass in a minute ...

Pee: Well. That was all took away, son, by the Police. New regulation see about compensation for the victim.

Alex: What about Basil? Where's my snake?

Pee: Oh well, he met with like an accident. He passed away.

Alex becomes a bit weepy.

Alex: What's gonna happen to me then? I mean that's my room he's in - there's no denying that. This is my home also. What suggestions have you, my Pee and Em, to make?
Perc: Well, all this needs thinking about, son. I mean we can't very well just kick Joe out ... Not just like that, can we? I mean Joe's here doing a job. A contract it is, two years. Well, we made like an arrangement, didn't we, Joe? You see, son, Joe's paid next month's rent already so, well, whatever we may do in the future, we can't just say to Joe get out, now can we?

Joe: No, there's much more than that, though. I mean I've got you two to think of. I mean you're more like a mother and father to me. Well, it wouldn't be fair now, would it, for me to go off and leave you two to the tender mercies of this young monster who's been like no real son at all. Look, he's weeping now, but that's all his craft and artfulness. Look, let him go off and find a room somewhere. Let him learn the errors of his way, and that a bad boy like he's been don't deserve such a good mum and dad as he's had.

Alex: Alright. I see how things are now. I've suffered and I've suffered, and I've suffered and everybody wants me to go on suffering.

Joe: You've made others suffer. It's only fair that you should suffer proper. You know I've been told everything you've done, sitting here at night round the family table, pretty shocking it was to listen to. It made me real sick, a lot of it did. Now look what you've gone and done to your mother.

Em bursts into tears.
Alex: So that's the way it is then, eh? That's the way it is. Right, I'm leaving now, you won't ever viddy me no more. I'll make me own way. Thank you very much. Let it lie heavy on your consciences.

Alex exits.

Pee: (shouting after him) Now don't take it like that son.

Em boohoochoos
Joe comforts her.

EXT. EMBANKMENT — DAY

Alex walks along the Thames embankment still holding his paper parcel.

Tramp enters.
The same man beaten by Alex and his gang earlier in the film.

Tramp: Can you spare me some cutter, me brother?
Can you spare some cutter, me brother?

Tramp: Oh thankyou, your honour.

The tramp takes a second look at Alex.
The penny drops.
Tramp: Jamey Mack! Be the hokey fly!
Holy Mother of God! All the Holy Angels and blessed saints in Heaven preserve us.

Alex breaks away but the Tramp toddlies alongside him.

Tramp: I never forget a face! I never forget any face, be God!

Alex: Leave me alone, brother. I've never seen you before.

Tramp shouts to other Moths drinkers and Tramps.

Tramp: This is the poisonous young swine that near done me in. Him and his friends beat me and kicked me and thumped me.

Alex breaks away again.

Tramp: Stop him! Stop him!

A leg is stuck out and Alex goes down.
The tramps swarm all over him.
Tramp: They laughed at me blood and me moans. This murderous young pig is a prize specimen of the cowardly brutal young. He is in our midst and at our mercy. Give it to him. That's it.

Old tramps begin to beat at Alex.

Alex: (Voice Over) Then there was like a sea of dirty, smelly old men trying to get at your humble Narrator, with their feeble rookers and horny old claws. It was Old Age having a go at Youth and I daren't do a single solitary thing, 0 my brothers, it being better to be hit at like that, than want to be sick and feel that horrible pain.

The tramps crowd round Alex, shouting.

Tramps: Young hooligan ... Vagabond ... Kill him... Villain ... Toad ... Bastard ... Kick his teeth in ... Near killed poor old Jack, he did.

Police move in and push off crowd.

1st Policeman: Alright, stop it now.

Alex looks up.

2nd Policeman: What's the trouble, sir?

Alex sees the Policemen are, in fact, Dim and Georgie.

Alex: Oh, no.

Dim: Well, well, well, well, well, well, well, if it isn't little Alex. Long time no viddy, droog. Now goes? Surprised are you?

Alex: Impossible ... I don't believe it.

Georgie: Evidence of the old glazzies. Nothing up our sleeves. No magic little Alex. A job for two who are now of job age. The Police.

EXT. COUNTRY ROAD - DAY

Police Landrover drives up. Alex is pulled out by Georgie and Dim and hustled up a deserted lane.

Dim: Come on, Alex. Come for walkies. Hahahahaha.
Alex: Come, come, my little droogies. I just don't get this at all. The old days are dead and gone. For what I did in the past I've been punished.

Dim: Been punished, yeah?

Alex: I've been cured.

Dim: Been cured, yeah, that was read out to us. The Inspector read all that out to us. He said it was a very good way.

Alex: I just don't get this at all. It was them that went for me, brothers. You're not on their side and can't be. You can't be, Dim! It was someone we filled with back in the old days ... Trying to get his own malenky bit of revenge after all this time. You remember, Dim?

Dim: Long time is right. I don't remember them days too horrorshow. Don't call me Dim no more either. Officer, call me.

Georgie: Enough is remembered though, little Alex!

Dim and Georgie laugh.

They drag Alex to a low water trough.

Dim: This is to make sure you stay cured.
Georgie hits Alex in the stomach with his blackjack. Then, they push his head under the water and methodically start to beat him with their blackjacks.

After a full minute of this, they drag him out, half-drowned.

EXT. "HOME" - NIGHT - Heavy Rain.

Alex stumbles up the road to the entrance gate.

Alex: (Voice Over) Where was I to go, who had no home and no money. I cried for meself, Home, Home, Home. It was Home I was wanting and it was Home I came to, brothers, not realising in the state I was in, where I was and had been before.

Alex stumbles and crawls to the door.
48.1 INT. "HOME" - NIGHT.

Mr. Alexander at his typewriter.

Julian, a 6'4" - heavyweight weight-lifter lies across an exercise bench working with bar-bells.

The door bell rings.

Mr. Alexander: Who on earth could that be?

Julian: I'll see who it is.

He goes to door.

Julian: Yes, what is it?

No reply.

He opens door.

Alex falls into the hall.

Alex: (barely audible) Help. Help me... Help me...

Police.

Julian picks him up like a child and carries him into the living room.
Alex: (Voice Over) And would you believe it, O my brothers and only friends, there was your faithful Narrator being held helpless, like a babe in arms, and suddenly realising where he was and why HOME on the gate had looked so familiar. But I knew I was safe. I knew he would not remember me for, in those carefree days, I and my so-called droogs wore our maskies which were like real horrorshow disguises.

Julian: Frank, I think this young man needs help.

Mr. Alexander: Dear, dear, dear. Whatever happened to you, my boy?

Mr. Alexander, now confined to a wheelchair, pushes himself away from his desk and rolls up to Julian. The water drips off Alex's clothes. They look at each other.

Alex: The Police ... The horrible ghastly Police. They beat me up, sir. The Police beat me up, sir.

Mr. Alexander stares at him. It becomes apparent he is insane.
Mr. Alexander: I know who you are! Isn't it your picture in the newspapers? Didn't I see you this morning on the video? Are you not the poor victim of this horrible new technique?

Alex: Yes, sir, that's exactly who I am, sir... and what I am... a victim, sir.

Mr. Alexander becomes frenzied as the speech progresses.

Mr. Alexander: Then, by God, you have been sent here by providence. Tortured in prison, then thrown out to be tortured by the Police. My heart goes out to you, poor, poor, boy. Oh, you are not the first to come here in distress. The Police are fond of bringing their victims to the outskirts of this village. But it is providential that you, who are also another kind of victim, should come here. But you're cold and shivering. Julian, draw a bath for this young man.

Julian: Certainly, Frank.

He carries Alex off.

Alex: Thank you very much, sir. God bless you, sir.

Alexander bites his hand.
Alex soaks, eyes closed, in a hot tub.

After a while he begins softly singing to himself: "Singin' in the Rain".

Mr. Alexander is hunched over the phone, talking in hoarse whispers. The door to the bathroom is right behind him. While he speaks Mr. Alexander throws nervous glances over his shoulder.

Mr. Alexander: I tell you, sir, they have turned this young man into something other than a human being. He has no power of choice any more. He's committed to socially acceptable acts, a little machine capable only of good ... He can be the most potent weapon imaginable to ensure that the Government is not returned at the next election. The Government's great boast, as you know sir, is the way they have dealt with crime in the last few months. Recruiting brutal young roughs into the Police, proposing debilitating and will-capping techniques of conditioning. Oh, we've seen it all before in other countries. The thin end of the wedge.
Mr. Alexander (continued): Before we know where we are, we shall have the full apparatus of totalitarianism. This young boy is a living witness to these diabolical proposals. The people — the common people — must know ... must see! There are great traditions of liberty to defend. The tradition of liberty means all. The common people will let it go! Oh, yes — they will sell liberty for a quieter life. That is why they must be led, sir, driven ... pushed !!! Thank you very much, sir. He'll be here.

Trembling with excitement and madness, Mr. Alexander hangs up the phone. His eyes, shiny with anticipation. Then, suddenly, he becomes aware of Alex's voice coming from the other side of the door.

48.5 INT. BATHROOM

Alex in bath, singing.

Alex: I'm singin' in the rain, Just singin' in the rain, etc.

Mr. Alexander his face horribly distorted in a Homeric rage.

49 INT. "HOME" - NIGHT

Alex, alone, in complete silence, eating a large plate of spaghetti.
The giant, Julian, appears carrying Mr. Alexander in his wheelchair. He deposits him at the table.

Alex: Good evening, sir.

Mr. Alexander: (very weird) Good evening.

Alex: It's very kind of you to leave this out for me, sir. There was no-one around when I finished my bath, so I started. I hope that's alright, sir.

Mr. Alexander: (too loud - voice out of control) Of course. Food alright?

Alex: Great, sir, Great.

Mr. Alexander: Try the wine!

Alex: Thank you very much, sir. Cheers.

Suddenly the thought occurs to Alex that the wine may be drugged or poisoned.

Alex: Won't you join me, sir?
Mr. Alexander: No, my health doesn't allow it.

Alex: And you, sir.

Julian: No, thank you.

Alex: stalling for time reaches for bottle and reads the label.

Alex: 1960, Chateau, Saint Estephe, Medoc, very good brand, sir. [He doesn't get a penny's change for his remarks from Alexander and Julian.

He holds the glass up to the light.

Alex: Very good colour, sir. Smells nice, too. Very good number, sir. Very good. Well here's to it.

He downs the glass.

Alex: Very refreshing, sir, very refreshing.

Mr. Alexander: (very arch) I'm so pleased you appreciate good wine. Have another glass!

Alex: Thank you, sir.
Mr. Alexander: My wife...

Alex freezes.

Mr. Alexander: ... used to do everything for me and leave me to my writing.

Alex: Your wife, sir? Has she gone away?

Mr. Alexander: No. She's dead!

Alex: I'm sorry to hear that, sir.

His face contorted in rage.

Mr. Alexander: She'd been very badly raped, you see. We were assaulted by a gang of vicious young hooligans in this house, in this very room you're sitting in now. I was left a helpless cripple, but for her the shock was too great. The doctor said it was Pneumonia, because it happened a few months later during the 'flu epidemic. The doctors told me it was Pneumonia, but I knew what it was. A victim of the modern age, poor, poor girl.

Suddenly his mood changes. He wheels right up to Alex.

Mr. Alexander: And now you, another victim of the modern age. But you can be helped. I phoned some friends while you were having a bath.

Alex: Phoned some friends, sir?

Mr. Alexander: Yes. They want to help.
Alex: Help me, sir?

Mr. Alexander: Help you.

Alex: Who are they, sir?

Mr. Alexander: They're very, very important people and they're interested in you.

Bell rings.
Julian rises.

Mr. Alexander: Julian. This will be these people now.

Alex gets up.

Alex: Look, sir, I'm sorry to have troubled you. I think I ought to be going, sir.

Julian bars the way.

Mr. Alexander: No, no my boy. No trouble at all.

Alex slowly sits.

Mr. Alexander: Have another glass of wine.

He pours.
Alex picks up glass and takes a drink.
49.1 INT. "HOME" - NIGHT

Dolin and Rubinstein enter with Julian.

Dolin: (genial) Hullo, Frank.

Alexander: Good evening, sir.

Rubinstein: Frank.

Dolin: So this is the young man.

Alex: How do you do, sir.

Dolin: Hullo.

Alex: Missus. Very pleased to meet you.

Rubinstein: Hullo.

Dolin: I hope you forgive us for coming over at this ungodly hour, but we heard from Frank that you were in some trouble and we came over to see if we could be of any help.

Alex: Very kind of you, sir. Thank you very much.

Dolin: I understand that you had a rather unfortunate encounter with the Police tonight.

Alex: Yes, sir. I suppose you might call it that, sir.
Dolin: Hahaha, and how are you feeling now?

Alex: Much better, thank you, sir.

Dolin: Feel like talking to us. Answering a few questions?

Alex: Fine, sir, fine.

Dolin: Well, as I've said, we've heard about you. We are interested in your case. We want to help you.

Alex: Thank you very much, sir.

Dolin: But first we'd like to find out a few things about you.

Alex: What would you like to know, sir?

Dolin: Well, shall we get down to it?

Alex: Yes, sir.

Rubinstein takes out a notebook.

Rubinstein: The newspapers mentioned that in addition to your being conditioned against acts of sex and violence, you've inadvertently been conditioned against music.

Alex: Well, er, I think that was something that they hadn't planned for, you see, Missus. I'm very fond of music and always have been, especially Beethoven... Ludwig van... Beethoven... B..E..E..
He leans over and looks at her writing in notebook.

Rubinstein: It's alright, thank you.

Alex: And it just so happened while they were showing me a particularly bad film, of like a concentration camp, the background music was playing Beethoven.

Rubinstein: So now you have the same reaction to music as you do to sex and violence?

Alex: Oh, well, it's ... it's not all music you see, missus. It's just the 9th.

Rubinstein: You mean Beethoven's Ninth Symphony?

Alex: That's right. Er... I can't listen to the Ninth any more at all. When I hear the ninth, I get like this funny feeling.

Dolin: When you say this funny feeling, you mean the state of mind brought on by the treatment they gave to you?

Alex: That is correct, sir. And then all I can think about is like trying to snuff it.

Rubinstein: I beg your pardon?

Alex: Snuff it, sir ... um ... death, I mean, missus...
Er... I just want to die peacefully like with no .. pain.
Dolin: Do you feel that way now?

Alex: Um... oh no, sir, not exactly, I still feel very miserable, very much down in spirits.

Rubinstein: Do you still feel suicidal?

Alex: Um... well, put it this way... I feel very low in myself. I can't see much in the future, and I feel that any second something terrible is going to happen to me.

He pitches forward face into the plate of spaghetti.

Dolin: Well done, Frank. Julian, get the car, will you please?

50 OMITTED

51 INT HI FI ROOM - DAWN

Alexander sits looking up.
Rubinstein, Julian and Dolin also listening to Beethoven played loudly on tape recorder.

51.1 INT. DOLIN'S HOUSE - PRISONER BEDROOM - DAWN

The Ninth Symphony booming up through the floor.
Alex slowly regains consciousness.

Alex: (Voice Over) I woke up. The pain and sickness all over me like an animal. Then I realised what it was. The music coming up from the floor was our old friend, Ludwig van and the dreaded ninth symphony.

He staggers to the door.
It is locked.
He kicks and tugs at the door.

Alex: Open the door ... turn it off ... turn it off.

CUT to the billiard room below.
Hi-fi gear laid out on the table.
Large speakers facing upward.
Mr. Alexander trembles and twitches.
He is now completely mad. The others merely wait, coolly.

Alex on his knees.
His hands cupped over his ears, hammering his head on the floor.
Then he stops and slowly straightens up, staring at the window.

Alex: (Voice Over) Suddenly I viddied what I had to do, and what I had wanted to do – and that was to do myself in, to snuff it, to blast off forever out of this wicked cruel world. One moment of pain perhaps and then sleep – forever and ever and ever.

51.2 EXT WINDOW - DAWN

Alex leaps out of window.

52 INT. HOSPITAL WARD

Alex in bed. Camera slowly tracks along length of his body. Everything is bandages and plaster splints, wire cages, blood drips.

Alex: (Voice Over) I jumped, O my brothers, and I fell hard but I did not snuff it, oh no. If I had snuffed it, I would not be here to tell what I have told. I came back to life, after a long, black, black gap of what might have been a million years.
We hear Alex moan, and then another moan. Alex and the other - a few times. Suddenly, some curtains which have been drawn around another bed in the ward are parted, and a nurse hurries to Alex, hastily buttoning up her uniform. She is trailed by a young intern fumbling with his trousers.

_Nurse_: Oh, he's recovered consciousness, Doctor.

INT. HOSPITAL - DAY

_Em_ and _Pee_ sitting around the bed.

_Pee_: Hullo, lad.

_Em_: Hullo, son, how are you?

_Pee_: Are you feeling better?
Alex: What gives, oh my Pee and Em, what makes you think you are welcome?

Em sobs.

Pee comforts her.

Pee: There, there mother, it's alright. He doesn't mean it. You were in the papers again, son. It said they had done great wrong to you. It said how the Government drove you to try and do yourself in ... and when you think about it, son ... maybe it was our fault too in a way ... your home's your home when all's said and done, son.

Em sobs.

INT. HOSPITAL DAY

Psychiatrist wheels trolley to Alex's bed. He is sitting up.

Alex: Good morning, Missus.

Dr. Taylor: How are you feeling today?

Alex: Fine. Fine.

Dr. Taylor: Good. I'm Doctor Taylor.

Alex: I haven't seen you before.

Dr. Taylor: I'm your Psychiatrist.
Alex: Psychiatrist. Huh, do I need one?

Dr. Taylor: Just part of hospital routine.

Alex: What are we going to do? Talk about me sex life?

Dr. Taylor: No ... I'm going to show you some slides and you are going to tell me what you think about them. Alright?

Alex: Ohhh... jolly good. Perhaps you can explain something to me first.

Dr. Taylor: Yes?

Alex: Well, when I was all like smashed up and half awake and unconscious like, I kept having this dream like all these doctors were playing around with me gulliver. You know ... like the inside of me brain. I seemed to have this dream over and over again. D'you think it means anything?

Dr. Taylor: Patients who have sustained the kind of injuries you have often have dreams of this sort. It's all part of the recovery process.

Alex: Oh.

Dr. Taylor: Right then, shall we start?

Alex: Right.

Dr. Taylor: Now then, each of these slides needs a reply from one of the people in the picture. You tell me what you think the person would say. Alright?
Alex: Righty, right.

The doctor reads aloud the dialogue printed in the cartoon balloon —
A peacock.

Dr. Taylor: Isn't the plumage beautiful?

Alex: I just say what the other person would say?

Dr. Taylor: Yes. Yes, well don't think about it too long, just say the first thing that pops into your mind.

Alex: Right ... Knickers ... Cabbages ... It doesn't have a beak.

Alex laughs.
Slide of woman
speaking to boy.

Dr. Taylor: Good. The boy you always quarrelled with is seriously ill.

Alex: That's right and I'll smash your face for you, yarblockos.

Slide of watch shop.

Dr. Taylor: Good. It was your fault ... you sold me a crummy watch. I want my money back.

Alex: Bollocks. You know what you can do with that watch? You can stick it up your arse.
Slide of nude woman in bed, a man at the window.

Dr. Taylor: Good. What do you want?

Alex: Excuse me, missus. No time for the old in-out, I've just come to read the meter.

Dr. Taylor: Good. You can do whatever you like with these.

Alex: Eggiwegs. I would like to smash em. Pick up the lot and f.... owww....

He slams his hand down and cries out with pain.

Alex: Fucking hell....

Dr. Taylor: Fine. Well, that's all there is to it. Are you alright?

Alex: I hope so. Is that the end then?

Dr. Taylor: Yes.

Alex: I was quite enjoying that.

Dr. Taylor: Good. I'm glad.
Alex: How many did I get right?

Dr. Taylor: It's not that kind of test. But you seem well on the way to a complete recovery.

Alex: And when do I get out of here then?

Dr. Taylor: I'm sure it won't be long now.

INT. HOSPITAL - DAY

Alex sitting up being fed by nurse.

Alex: (Voice Over) So I waited and, O my brothers, I got a lot better munching away at eggwigs, and lonticks of toast and lovely steakiweak and then, one day, they said I was going to have a very special visitor.

Doctor enters followed by Minister and Matron.

Minister: Good evening, my boy.

Alex: Hi, hi, hi there, my little droogies.

Doctor: Well, how are you getting on today, young man?

Alex: Great, sir. Great.
Doctor: Can I do anything more for you, Minister?

Minister: I don't think so, Sir Leslie. Thank you very much.

Doctor: Then I'll leave you to it. Nurse.

They exit,

Minister moves to Alex.

Minister: You seem to have a whole ward to yourself, my boy.

Alex: Yes, sir, and a very lonely place it is too, sir, when I wake up in the middle of the night with me pain.

Minister: Yes ... well good to see you on the mend. I've kept in constant touch with the hospital, of course, and now I've come to see you personally to see how you're getting along.

Alex: I've suffered the tortures of the damned. The tortures of the damned, sir.

Minister: Yes I can ... Oh look, let me do that for you, shall I?

Alex: Thank you, sir.

Minister: I can tell you that I ... and the Government of which I am a member, are deeply sorry about this, my boy. Deeply sorry. We tried to help you. We followed recommendations which had been made to us that turned out to be wrong. An enquiry will place the responsibility where it belongs.
Minister: (continuing) We want you to regard us as friends. We've put you right, you're getting the best of treatments. We never wished you harm, but there are some that did and do, and I think you know who those are. There are certain people who wanted to use you for political ends. People who would have been glad for you to be dead because then they would have been able to blame it all on the Government. I think you know who those are. There is also a certain man - a writer of subversive literature - who has been howling for your blood. He's been mad with desire to stick a knife into you, but you're safe from him now, we've put him away. He found out that you had done wrong to him - at least he believed you had done wrong. He had formed this idea in his head that you had been responsible for the death of someone near and dear to him. We put him away for his own protection. ... I'm sorry, I thought you were ready.

Alex: Where is he now, sir?

Minister: We put him away where he can do you no harm. You see we are looking after your interests. We are interested in you, and when you leave here you will have no further worries. We shall see to everything ... a good job on a good salary.

Alex: What job and how much?

Minister: You must have an interesting job at a salary which you would regard as adequate. Not only for the job which you are going to do and in compensation for what you believe you have suffered, but also because you are helping us.
Alex: Helping you, sir?

Minister: We always help our friends, don't we? (smiles) It is no secret that the Government has lost a lot of popularity because of you, my boy. There are some who think that at the next election we shall be out. The press have chosen to take a very unfavourable view of what we tried to do.

Alex: Well, who can blame them, sir?

Minister: Mmmm, possibly. Yes. But public opinion can be changed and you, Alex, if I may call you Alex?

Alex: Certainly, sir. What do they call you at home?

Minister: My name is Frederick. As I was saying, Alex, you can be instrumental in changing the public verdict. Do you understand, Alex? Have I made myself clear?

Alex: As an unmuddied lake, Fred. As clear as an azure sky of deepest summer. You can rely on me, Fred.

Minister: Good ... good boy. Oh yes, I understand you're fond of music. I've prepared a little surprise for you.

Alex: Surprise?

Minister: One I think you will like ... as a how shall I put it, as a symbol of our new understanding. An understanding between two friends.
Alex: Thank you, Fred. Thank you.

Minister turns and signals.

Door opens and a crowd of reduced cameramen and reporters enter.
Rush in.

Aides push two 6-foot loudspeakers
and a Hi-Fi on a trolley.

Alex: (Voice Over) And what do you know, my brothers and only friends,
